

Build A Solid Financial Foundation

When the markets and the economy are behaving badly, as they tend to do from time to time, it's easy to feel helpless. But creating a solid financial foundation can help you gain control of your investments and possibly avoid mistakes that can sabotage your portfolio.

Your Net Worth -- A Place to Start

Having a current picture of your finances is an important first step in building a solid foundation. By determining your net worth at the same time every year, you'll know what sort of financial shape you're in and whether you're making progress toward your goals. To find your net worth, list all of your assets, including bank and investment accounts, real estate, retirement plans, life insurance, business interests, etc. Then subtract your liabilities, such as your mortgage, credit card debt, loans, etc. The amount that's left is your net worth. If you don't like the number, look for ways to either decrease your debts or increase your assets.

Lost Without Them

Setting specific goals can help you focus your investing efforts. Prioritize the goals you've set according to their importance and your time frame for needing the money. Keep in mind that the goals you have now will probably change over time, so be flexible. Revisit your goals periodically and revise them when necessary.

Make It Personal

You can't control what happens in the economy, but you can control your own behavior. Instead of worrying about whether the market is up or down or which investments will be hit hardest by a decline, think about the things you can do that could make a difference. Investing money on a regular basis or adjusting your portfolio's asset allocation are steps that can help put you in control.¹

Good Behavior

Think about creating a written investment statement that describes your risk tolerance, rebalancing schedule, and reasons for selling an investment.² Having guidelines to follow can keep you from making mistakes that might thwart your plans. You might also want to review your own financial track record. Tax returns and brokerage statements can tell you a lot about your past successes and failures. Keep in mind that past performance is no guarantee of future results.

Source/Disclaimer:

¹Asset allocation and dollar-cost averaging do not assure a profit or protect against a loss. Dollar-cost averaging involves regular, periodic investments in securities regardless of price levels. You should consider your financial ability to continue purchasing shares though periods of high and low prices.

²Consider the tax consequences when selling investment shares. Rebalancing strategies may involve tax consequences, especially for non-tax-deferred accounts.

Required Attribution

Because of the possibility of human or mechanical error by DST Systems, Inc. or its sources, neither DST Systems, Inc. nor its sources guarantees the accuracy, adequacy, completeness or availability of any information and is not responsible for any errors or omissions or for the results obtained from the use of such information. In no event shall DST Systems, Inc. be liable for any indirect, special or consequential damages in connection with subscriber's or others' use of the content.

© 2017 DST Systems, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part prohibited, except by permission. All rights reserved. Not responsible for any errors or omissions.

Make sure your investment plan is up to date.

A financial review provides a great opportunity to capitalize on events that occurred over the last year and strive to put your finances on firm footing for the next year.

Call to schedule a free, no-obligation consultation with Dwayne or Chuck to discuss your options!

Dwayne Clendaniel, CRPC®†

Vice President, Sharonview Financial Services, LPL Financial Advisor

7422 Carmel Executive Park Drive, Suite 218 ♦ Charlotte, NC 28226
704.973.2625 or 800.462.4421 x2625

Serving Sharonview members in Charlotte, Salisbury, and surrounding areas.
Visit sharonview.org/SFS for more information.

Chuck Coveney, AAMS

Assistant Vice President, Sharonview Financial Services
LPL Financial Advisor

1855 E. Main Street, Suite 7 ♦ Spartanburg, SC 29307
864.967.8509 or 800.462.4421 x2006

Serving Sharonview members in the upstate of South Carolina and Shelby areas. Visit sharonview.org/SFS for more information.

Securities and advisory services are offered through LPL Financial (LPL), a registered investment advisor and broker-dealer (member FINRA/SIPC). Insurance products are offered through LPL or its licensed affiliates. Sharonview Federal Credit Union and Sharonview Financial Services are not registered as a broker-dealer or investment advisor. Registered representatives of LPL offer products and services using Sharonview Financial Services, and may also be employees of Sharonview Federal Credit Union. These products and services are being offered through LPL or its affiliates, which are separate entities from, and not affiliates of, Sharonview Federal Credit Union or Sharonview Financial Services. Securities and insurance offered through LPL or its affiliates are:

Not Insured by NCUA or Any Other Government Agency

Not Credit Union Guaranteed

Not Credit Union Deposits or Obligations

May Lose Value

†CRPC® is a registered service mark of the College for Financial Planning®

LPL Financial Tracking number # 1-894705